

DIGITAL LEARNING SUPPORT

Digital Learning Support (<https://academics.umw.edu/dls/>) (DLS) is a service unit providing students and faculty the skills they need to integrate digital technologies into their teaching, learning, and research at the University. Students are supported by student consultants of the Digital Knowledge Center (<https://dkc.umw.edu/>) (DKC) in a wide variety of digital projects, tools, and techniques. Students can sign up for tutorials around different technologies used in their classes or meet with consultants to discuss projects and learn new skills. Faculty support is provided by DLS staff including consultations around integration of digital tools into courses, creation of digital projects, support for student digital projects through the DKC, or design of hybrid or fully online courses.
