

MARKETING

Degree: B.S., Business Administration

College of Business (<https://business.umw.edu/about-the-college/>)

A major in Marketing will help prepare students for jobs in virtually all industries. In today's world of evolving technologies and media fragmentation there is great demand for those that are able to successfully identify, understand, and reach consumers. The tools that one learns in marketing enables students to work for Fortune 500 companies, non-government organizations, or as entrepreneurs who start their own business. Students are able to gain strong quantitative skills allowing them to pursue careers in market research, policy research, pricing, and supply chain management. The ability to think critically and creatively is also developed so that students are able to pursue careers in promotion (advertising, publicity, public relations), product or service design. Many graduates also choose a professional sales job for their entry into the workforce.

A student who has not declared a Business major is limited to taking no more than 27 hours in business or business related courses defined as those courses with the following prefixes: ACCT, BLAW, BUAD, DSCI, FINC, MKTG, MGMT, MIST, CIST, or LRSP.
